

ILIKEITDEEP · A GUIDED JOURNAL

Pull Your Head Out

A Tough-Love Journal for Getting Unstuck

printable pdf · 18 blunt questions · said with love

WELCOME

Read This First

Let's be honest with each other: you already know.
You know what's not working. You know what you keep avoiding. You've known for a while.

This journal isn't here to hold your hand.
It's here to hold up a mirror — with love, but with zero interest in your excuses.

Every question in here is blunt on purpose.
Answer them honestly and something will change.
Answer them cute and you just wasted $17.

Ready? Good. Pull your head out. Let's go.

STARTING POINT

The Real Situation

No spin, no soft language: what is actually going on in your life right now that you've been dancing around? Write it like you'd want a friend to finally admit it.

PART ONE

Calling It What It Is

Step one: stop lying to the nicest person you know — you.

What are you pretending not to know?

What's the excuse you've worn out? Write it down, then write what it's actually protecting you from.

[illegible][illegible]

[illegible][illegible]

How is staying stuck actually serving you? (It is somehow — comfort, sympathy, safety. Find it.)

What's the cost of another year exactly like this one? Add it up honestly.

PART TWO

Dropping the Story

Your excuses are well-written. They're still fiction.

*What story about yourself — 'I'm just not the type,'
'it's too late,' 'I can't' — needs to die today?*

Who are you blaming, and how's that working out for your actual life?

What are you scared people will say if you go for it — and why do their couches get a vote in your life?

A decorative border consisting of small dots runs along all four edges of the page.

What did you quit that you never actually failed at — you just stopped?

[illegible]

A decorative border made of small dots surrounds the entire page.

PART THREE

Doing the Thing

Clarity without action is just a nicer way to stay stuck.

[illegible]

The image shows a worksheet page with a dotted border. At the top center, it says "PULL YOUR HEAD OUT · 13 OF 18". Below this, there is a question in italics: "What's THE thing? The one move you know would change everything if you did it. Name it." Underneath the question is a small red heart icon. The rest of the page is filled with horizontal lines for writing. At the bottom center, the website "ilikeitdeep.us" is printed.

What will you do the first time you slip? Plan the comeback now, not the excuse.

Write the one-sentence promise. Date it. Sign it.
This page is your witness.

The No-Excuse Checklist

Run this list any day you feel yourself sliding back to sleep. Check what applies and get moving.

- ☐ Did I do the small step I promised? If no — do it right now, then finish this list
- ☐ Am I confusing being busy with making progress?
- ☐ Have I researched it to death instead of starting it?
- ☐ Am I waiting to feel ready? (You won't. Go anyway.)
- ☐ Did I let one slip turn into a spiral?
- ☐ Is my phone eating the hours I said I didn't have?
- ☐ Am I asking for opinions when I already know?
- ☐ Have I told my accountability person the truth this week?
- ☐ Am I protecting my comfort or my future today?
- ☐ One year from now — will I thank today's me?

anyway — log it here. Momentum loves evidence.*

BEFORE YOU CLOSE THIS JOURNAL

One Last Push

Here's the loving truth this whole journal was building to:
nobody is coming to do it for you. And the version of you who's been waiting? She was capable this whole time.

You don't need more motivation. You need the next small step, taken today, repeated tomorrow.

You pulled your head out. Now keep it out.
Go be someone your excuses can't keep up with.

*You already knew. Now you're moving.
Big difference.*
