30 Days Present

A 30-Day Journal for a Healthier Relationship With Your

---

*"Write it. Feel it. Heal it.
Your journal knows the real you."*

WELCOME

Welcome

This journal is a place to notice your habits and what's underneath them — boredom, anxiety, avoidance, loneliness. You don't have to be perfect at this. You just have to pay attention. Here's how it works: • Start with the "Before You Begin" page — it only takes a few minutes. • Write your Phone Plan — a few simple rules that fit your real life. • Fill out one page a day. Morning or night, whatever sticks. • Every 7 days there's a Weekly Check-In to look at the bigger picture. • Missed a day? Don't quit. Just pick up where you left off. Small changes add up. Be honest with yourself, and be patient — habits built over years don't unwind in a month.

BEFORE YOU BEGIN

Before You Begin

Why does this matter to me, right now, for myself?

---

---

What feelings usually send me reaching for my phone?

---

---

What would I do with the time I get back?

---

---

MY PHONE PLAN

My Phone Plan

Examples: no phone at meals • phone charges outside the bedroom • no scrolling before 9am

Pick 2 or 3 simple rules for the next 30 days. Keep them small enough to actually keep.

---

---

My rules for the next 30 days:

---

---

What I'll do instead when I get the urge to scroll:

---

---

Who I'll tell about this (a little accountability helps):

BEFORE YOU CLOSE THIS JOURNAL

30 Days Down

Whatever these 30 days looked like — a few slips or a real shift — you paid attention to something most people never examine. Keep noticing. Set boundaries that fit your real life — app limits, phone-free times, a charging spot outside the bedroom. Small structure, kept consistently, beats willpower alone.
