I LIKE IT DEEP · A GUIDED JOURNAL

30 Days Whole

A Daily Journal for Sexual Addiction Recovery

*"Write it. Feel it. Heal it.
Your journal knows the real you."*

W E L C O M E

Before Day One

This journal starts from one truth: you are not your compulsion. You're a whole person whose coping got tangled with something that now costs more than it gives — and you've decided to get untangled. That takes more courage than most people will ever know. Each day here is a short, honest check-in: urges, triggers, feelings underneath, and wins — however small. Slips get truth and a next step, never shame spirals. One thing said with love: this kind of recovery is genuinely hard to do alone. A therapist who knows this work, or a recovery group, multiplies everything in these pages. You deserve that backup.

My 30-Day Commitment

What recovery means to me, in my own words:

My why — the life and relationships I want:

My riskiest patterns, times, and situations:

My plan when the pull hits (people, moves, exits):

Signed, one day at a time: _____

Day 1

Any urges or pulls today? What was the feeling right before?

Day 2

What were you really seeking in today's hardest moment — comfort, escape, feeling wanted?

Day 3

What did you choose instead today? Every redirect counts. Log it.

30 DAYS WHOLE · DAY 4

Day 4

today was: good hard mixed proud

How are you treating yourself in your own head today — coach or critic?

You showed up. That counts.

30 DAYS WHOLE · DAY 5

Day 5

today was: good hard mixed proud

What connection felt real today — a talk, a laugh, being honest with someone?

There's no rush here.

Day 6

What boundary protected you today, or needs building for tomorrow?

Day 7

What's one feeling you sat with today instead of escaping? How did that go?

Weekly Check-In

The honest week: strong days, close calls, and what I learned: The feeling I escaped from most this week — and one healthier door for it: Where I'm starting to feel more whole:

Day 8

What would you say to someone you love who was fighting this same fight?

Day 9

Where did you feel genuinely whole today, even for a moment?

Day 10

Re-read your why. Write what it means to you today.
